New money, stability for municipalities

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

A funding formula based on population, education property tax paid to the province, and the kilometres of road located in the municipality is being used to calculate a funding program which will give Alberta's 359 municipalities a total of $11.3 over the next 10 years.

"This is all new money," Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing Ray Danyluk, said in his keynote address at the Northern Lights Library System Conference in Elk Point on Saturday.

"Municipalities need to know that they will have support going into the future, and this is 10 years into the future. Each municipality knows what they will get, and it is explicit that they can use it for whatever they need it for. That is stability, and it allows them to look into the future. It's very hard to plan if you don't know what you're getting."

The Municipal Sustainability Initiative (MSI) is calculated on a formula that is calculated 48 per cent on a municipality's population, 48 per cent on the education tax requisition and the remaining four per cent on the kilometres of roads, Danyluk said.

"Elk Point has a population of 1,512 and 27 km of roads. In 2007-08, Elk Point gets $160,568, in 2008-09, that goes up to $302,908, the year after to $334,219, and there's seven years at $661,728, for a total of $5,422,858 in new money."

The County of St. Paul, with a population of approximately 6,000, will receive $692,689, $1,266,496, $1,503,370 and $3,415,433 for those same years, for a total of $27,370,587, while the Town of St. Paul will receive $346,549, $815,546, $934,925 and $1,940,718 for a total of $15,682,045 over the ten-year period.

Smaller communities will also see a huge influx of funding through the program. Derwent qualifies for $9,888 the first year, followed by $53,861, $55,889 and $157,448 for a total of $1,221,774.

Danyluk said amounts after the first year are estimates, and will be updated with changes in population, education requisitions and roads.

"Municipalities need to know that they will have support going into the future..."

Northern Lights hosts 15th annual conference

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Northern Lights Library System hosted their 15th annual conference at their Elk Point headquarters last week, with library staff and boards from across the system and beyond on hand for three days of sessions and speakers, interspersed with good food and fun.

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce hosted the opening night social, which followed pre-conference sessions on ergonomics and online databases.

Friday and Saturday sessions ranged from success stories to how-to advice, plus the introduction of new titles by some of the booksellers who ringed the conference area with their exhibits.

Friday afternoon, six entrepreneurs and crafters came to the conference share their expertise. Antique store owner Gordon Kuhn spoke on appraisal techniques, craftswoman Cecilia Desilva gave a presentation on Raku pottery, Alice John introduced participants to moccasin making, Patty Mathiot shared tips for making one-of-a-kind handmade cards, and jewelry artists Trevor Quin and Renita Senz explained the techniques they use to produce their unique creations.

Friday night's keynote speaker was a Canadian icon with St. Paul roots.

It all added up to fun, as judges (right to left) Lorraine and Ray Danyluk and Rick Boychuk rated the participants in the First Annual NLLS Book Truck Rodeo.

Allied Arts: a year of great progress

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Regional Allied Arts Society celebrated a year of outstanding progress toward their goal of a multi-purpose arts and recreation facility for the community at their annual meeting on Thursday night.

"Last year we were in the position of, 'if this should come to be...' then Ray Danyluk gave us wonderful news and put hope in our hearts," said Allied Arts president Don Conrad.

Danyluk's news became even more exciting at the project launch on April 13, when he and Tourism, Recreation, Parks and Culture Minister Hector Goudreau unveiled a Community Facility Enhancement Program grant for $500,000, with a further $100,000 to come next year.

"We owe a great big thanks to the Honourable Ray, and to consultant Darcy Atkins, who filled out the grant applications," Conrad said.

He praised his executive, noting that "a horrendous amount of work has gone into the project. We have worked together very well." Treasurer Kim Heyman, who took that post when Kerry Anderson resigned, worked "above and beyond what was expected," and director Blaine Easthope provided the society with briefs, presentations and research, while secretary Deanna Easthope "was the front lady for all of us."

The County of St. Paul and the Town of Elk Point solved one of the biggest problems. The two municipalities agreed to jointly take over the title of the warehouse portion of the Northern Lights Library System headquarters, with Heyman, who is the county's administrator, and town councillor Alvina Schuhmacher "taking the brunt of it," according to Conrad. "The town also gave us certain concessions, and our possession date is Oct. 1."

The municipalities also pledged $30,000 each per year for two years to help kickstart the project.

Locally, fundraising is "in its beginning stages," Conrad said. "E-Can is giving us $10,000, membership is close to what we projected, and the silent auction arranged by vice-president Millie Orr was phenomenal. There are a lot of supporters out there."

The planned facility "still remains non-competitive to other organizations," and is gaining support due to greater public awareness.

"Now instead of people asking if we really think it's a good idea, they're asking, 'when will it be finished?'"

The project is currently at the stage of separating the utilities coming into the building into those serving Northern Lights and those serving the new facility, and the electrical contract has been awarded, Conrad said. Problems in the property survey regarding access "are being worked out." An architect has been hired and the society has seen the first draft of the plans. They will be meeting with him soon to give input on "alterations and modifications," he added.

"We will soon have to sign the lease, then go to tender and the work will begin. Hopefully, by our next AGM, we will be able to see the fruits of our labour."

"Don has shortchanged himself," Schuhmacher said in response to Conrad's report. "This has been his big dream."

Blaine Easthope gave an update on the building.

"We're moving very quickly with the design and electrical stage. We had big trouble getting the electricity split, but we finally got approval with the addition of safety switches."

The need for power keeps increasing, Easthope said. "We started with 400 amps, and went to 800 - now we're at 1,600." This amount could still increase, he noted. "(The electrical consultant) met with a company in Edmonton today about stage lighting and what it takes to make it work, and the sound system."

Tung hoping for second term

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

I genuinely like serving the people," incumbent Parrish Tung says of his decision to seek a second term as Elk Point's mayor. Tung and his predecessor, Lyle Frisby, will contest the seat in the Oct. 15 election.

"What better way to do that than as part of the decision-making team?"

Tung adds that he has "started a lot of projects, and I'd like to finish them."

Six years ago, when Tung was first elected as a councillor, "I asked at the first forum if the people of Elk Point saw a need for a new playground. We are slowly, slowly achieving that."

Tung says he enjoys the challenge. "In the next eight years, I estimate the town will receive $7 million for infrastructure. I would like to be part of the decision-making process, and I would like to be involved with long-term planning to make the community better"

Elk Point also has the potential of a new subdivision built in conjunction with Winalta Inc., which Tung says "could bring in $8 to $10 million in property value to increase our assessment."

During the past three years, Tung says he and his council "have really enjoyed the relationship with the County of St. Paul. One thing to come out of that was the joint operating grant that we never had before, to help organizations."

Tung believes in being careful with spending the public's money.

"I ask myself, and council, 'what is the return on the investment?' I've never made a decision in the past three years that would only benefit one or two individuals, but rather the majority."

"I would like to care for everyone," Tung says, "from the seniors to the kids. Three years ago we did the seniors' survey to find out what their needs are, now we're looking at the kids. Teens and adults will come next. Basically, we're looking at the quality of life in our town."

To Tung, "being mayor is an honour and a privilege. I'm humbled by it, and I always remind myself I'm here to serve the people, and to do what is best for them. I am very fortunate to have had a great council to work with. I know we've always been working toward the betterment of citizens. We're a dedicated group, and we all wanted to do what's best for the community. I really have enjoyed it."

Tung is a firm believer in long-term planning, and says, "the next six years will be the biggest opportunity for the town. We have to do some serious planning."

Industrial growth and bringing in more businesses are among Tung's objectives, but he acknowledges that "our water supply could be a limiting factor. Within two years we will have to upgrade the water treatment plant, and possibly look at increasing its capacity for a projected increase in population.

The cost of running the town goes up each year, Tung says.

"It's inescapable. The only thing we can do to manage so the residents don't bear a heavy burden, is, as a council, to aggressively bring in new houses and businesses to increase the assessment. Any town that fails to do so will face an increase to residents in taxes."

Big boost for playground project

Carrie Rawlake, Stakeholder Relations Advisor from Canadian Natural Resources Limited's Bonnyville office, came to town last Thursday with a big cheque toward Elk Point's Centennial Playground. Accepting the cheque on behalf of Elk Point Elementary School were student leadership team members Ross Hawryluk, Karlee Rinas, Alex Bernhardt Sasseville, Nicole Bristow, Taylor Pankiw, Kira Brunner and Brayden Fairbairn, and EPE principal Lorne Young. One unit of the recently completed playground is seen in the background.

COUNTY OF ST. PAUL NO. 19 Proposed Amendment to Bylaw No. 1486

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the County of St. Paul No. 19 is considering Bylaw No. 1499, which is a Bylaw to amend Land Use Bylaw No. 1486. The following changes are being proposed:

By deleting Subsections 7.14(1) through (6) in their entirety and replacing them with the following:

Single Lot Subdivisions for Country Residential Development (including Farmstead, Separations, Fragmented Parcels, and Manufactured Homes)

- (1) In the Agriculture (A) and Urban Expansion (UX) Districts, four (4) parcels for country residential use may be subdivided out of each quarter section provided the quarter section is a minimum of 60 ha (148 ac) in size and provided, further, that the total area of such parcels does not exceed 8 ha (20 ac). If the quarter section is less than 60 ha (148 ac) in size but more than 45 ha (111 ac) in size, the total area of such parcels may not exceed 6 ha (15 ac). If the quarter section is less than 45 ha (111 ac) in size but more than 30 ha (74 ac) in size, the total area of such parcels may not exceed 4 ha (10 ac). If the quarter section is less than 30 ha (74 ac) in size, the total area of such parcel may not exceed 2 ha (5 ac). Such country residential parcels may include any combination of farmsteads and vacant parcels, and may include one (1) fragmented parcel. However, if a quarter section has been subdivided into two (2) halves, only one (1) country residential parcel may be subdivided from each half.
- (2) If the quarter section in the A or UX District is less than 60 ha (148 ac) in size but more than 45 ha (111 ac) in size, a maximum of three (3) parcels for country residential use may be subdivided from that quarter section. If the quarter section in the A or UX District is less than 45 ha (111 ac) in size but more than 30 ha (74 ac) in size, a maximum of two (2) parcels for country residential use may be subdivided from that quarter section. If the quarter section in the A or UX District is less than 30 ha (74 ac) in size but more than 15 ha (37 ac) in size, a maximum of one (1) parcel for country residential use may be subdivided from that quarter section. If the quarter section is less than 15 ha (37 ac) in size, no single lot separation may be allowed.
- (3) The development of more than the number of country residential parcels in a quarter section indicated in subsections (1) and (2) above shall be considered to be multi-lot country residential development and shall not be allowed within the Agriculture (A) or Urban Expansion (UX) Districts. Rather, an appropriate amendment to this Bylaw shall be required, normally to a Country Residential District.
- (4) Deleted
- (5) A fragmented parcel, as defined in this bylaw, less than 8 ha (20 ac) in size, shall be considered a parcel for country residential use for the purposes of Subsection (1) above. Subdivision of fragmented parcels larger than 8 ha (20 ac) in area shall be considered to be agricultural parcels.
- (6) A country residential use parcel shall not be less than 0.4 ha (1 ac) in size and not more than 8 ha (20 ac) in size. However, the total area of all single lot country residential use parcels on a quarter Section, including the area of any fragmented parcel which is used for country residential purposes, shall not exceed the number of hectares indicated in section 2.11 above. The use of more land within one quarter section for country residential use shall be considered multi-lot country residential development, even if it is for only one lot, and will require amendment to the Land Use Bylaw before such development can be approved by the County.

A Public Hearing will be held on Tuesday, October 9, 2007 at 10:30 a.m. or as soon thereafter as can possibly be arranged, at the County Office in St. Paul.

For further information, contact the County Office at 645-3301.

EDITORIAL

Voters fortunate to have a choice

Decisions, decisions... that will be what Elk Point voters will have to make between now and the municipal election on Monday, Oct. 15.

Elk Point is fortunate to have enough concerned individuals out there to make an election necessary. These people are willing to put their names on the ballot for the consideration of the public.

Both candidates for mayor have held that position, one in the last term and one in the term before that, so whichever of them receives the winning number of votes will know what the job entails, and how much of a time commitment they will need to fulfill the duties of the office.

It's quite amazing to see eight individuals put forth their names for the four council seats. Elk Point hasn't seen that big a race in many years. In fact, there have been times when nomination day became nomination days, plural, to get enough candidates to fill the chairs.

Five of those candidates are first-timers, which shows that a whole new crop of people are interested in what happens in this community.

New or experienced, those who are voted in on Oct.15 will have an exciting but challenging time ahead of them, as they determine how to spend the massive influx of funding announced last week, in a way that will provide the maximum benefit for the residents of our community.

Voters will have an opportunity to meet and question the candidates at an all-candidates forum Oct. 11, to assist them in making an informed choice.

Way Back When...

Water, oil, fire and smoke

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF SEPT. 25 IN...

1987

Many farmers were facing the fact that this could be their final harvest, as low grain prices and foreclosures took their toll on the rural community. Water was finally under the bridge again, coming out of Hook Lake after beaver dams were removed so water could once again flow down Atimoswe Creek toward the town's pumping station.

1992

Close to 250 people visited Fort George and Buckingham House on a glorious autumn day for the Fall Rendezvous, which came complete with entertainment and costumed fur trade characters. Double the 1991 attendance and almost double the pledges resulted in a very successful Terry Fox Run, with defending champion Peggy Maas again bringing in the most pledges with a whopping $925.50.

1997

A day-long oil spill containment and cleanup exercise gave 200 Elk Point emergency personnel and oil company representatives hands-on training. With the second meeting of the new season behind them, Elk Point chamber of commerce was still looking for a quorum so they could conduct business.

2002

Elk Point's long awaited new fire truck was a step closer to reality, as council approved a tender document for potential suppliers. Thick smoke from ground fires was blamed as the cause of a multiple-vehicle injury accident on Hwy. 897 just north of Frog Lake School.

GUEST COLUMN

Politicians-to-be

Last Monday, some community people from our town of Elk Point "threw their hats in the ring," so to speak, when they announced they were running for positions on Elk Point Town Council. For the position of mayor are Parrish Tung and Lyle Frisby. For four positions as Town Councillors are Dennis Jasinsky, Dwayne Yaremkevich, Dave Cousins, Dick Millar, Bernice Capjack, Ron Lesyk, Ron Fraess and Mark Gormley. All of these people are good people and through their talents and experiences, each could each be a great benefit to the town of Elk Point if they were elected. As voters in the town of Elk Point, we will have to decide which person with which specific talent and experience we feel will best meet the needs of Elk Point at this time and vote for that person. In other words, we the people need to know our town and be responsible for who we vote for. October 15 is voting day. Let's talk to the candidates.

The phrase, "to be, or not to be," comes from Shakespeare's Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, Act III, Scene one. The speech in its entirety has one meaning but if we quote the first few lines we may be able to apply it to what politicians sometimes go through.

"To be or not to be, that is the question; Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles..."

Politicians may have some moments when everything is wonderful and greatly rewarding, but the reality is that there are also moments that are full of conflict. In other words, to be involved as a politician, that person must recognize that to be accountable as a politician he or she must work at it, be committed, and be responsible. The results are always in process. And in the end, the individual can only do what they can do. Hence, "to be, or not to be." We have great people in Elk Point. No matter who the voters vote for, our community will be fine. So to all the candidates, may we say good luck. If elected, we know each one of you will do a great job.

Speaking of great people from Elk Point, do you all know about Audrey Mae Poitras? Audrey Mae Poitras has served as president of the Métis Nation of Alberta since 1996, the first female in that position. She also serves as vice president on the Canadian Métis National Council. Born Audrey Dumont, she is a descendant of Gabriel Dumont, her home town is Elk Point and she currently lives in Edmonton. Audrey Poitras is one of the highest profile Métis women in Canada. From her early days in the small community of Elk Point in northeastern Alberta until today, Audrey remains a champion of the rights of Métis in this country. From Métis identity to Métis rights - and recognition, Audrey remains a key figure among Canada's political leaders. In the summer of 2005, she was recognized as one of the 50 most influential people in Alberta. Transparency and accountability are important qualities Audrey believes in sincerely. Audrey leads the Métis Nation of Alberta with grace and dignity.

recognized by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and former Alberta Premier Ralph Klein, and cherished by Métis elders. From the example set by Audrey, we see that politicians can make changes that are beneficial and we see that they can recognize what needs to be done. With that in mind, let us vote for the candidates of our choice on October 15.

Big wins for Lions, Bengals

Down in Texas they play some pretty intense football on the show Friday Night Lights, but right here in North Eastern Alberta, we have some very heavy-duty football players of our own, calling Elk Point their home. The St. Paul Lions, who are 4 and 0 on the season, captured first place in the league after they traveled to the border city to take on the Barons this past Friday night in a game with some very intense moments, in fact it was a real nail biter right down to the final horn.

Down by seven points in the first quarter, then down

Review Sports

by 14 points early in the second half, things didn't look that great for the Lions this week and perhaps the streak was about to end, but talented quarterback Tyson Proski rushed in with the ball to make it 14 to 7 at half time to give the Lions a little momentum.

Starting the third quarter the Lions gave up another touchdown; now the score was 21 to 7 in favor of the Barons. Proski took things into his own hands, rushing with the ball once again in to the end zone to make it 21 to 14. The Lions were still in the hole trying to make up some points while the clock was ticking down, taking a chance on a on side kick, and they pulled it off perfectly, recovering the ball. A few plays later the game was tied 21- all. The Barons replied with a touchdown to take the lead again, the Lions responding with another touchdown by Tyson, his third of the game, and now the game was tied 28-all with very little time left. Then with only 31 seconds left on the clock, Proski kicked a field goal, the defense shut down the Barons and the Lions won another big game, perhaps the biggest of the year so far. Game stars in this one included Elk Point's Bryant Schnurer, Tyson Proski, Mike Wandler, Cory Smereka, Derrik Wruth, and Randy Merkle

The Bengals, who are off to a great start and are 4-0 as well, saw action two weeks ago when they traveled to Cold Lake, playing in a very tight match, no score after the first quarter, 7 to 6 at the half after Mark Proski's one point conversion was good. Then in the third quarter, "Dirty Harry" Harrison Maas made a beautiful catch to move the chains up the field to put the Bengals in easy reach of a touchdown, the Orange and Black winning this one 13 to 12.

This past weekend the Bengals traveled to Wainwright on Saturday morning coming up with another big win 56 to 29. Touchdowns for Harrison Maas and Mark Proski, some excellent work in the trenches by Colton Hymanyk and Nathan Smith and another interception this week for Jordan Mudryk.

This coming weekend, the Lions and Bengals both play at home against Lac La Biche, the Bengals Saturday at 11 a.m. followed by the Lions at 2 p.m.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week: "For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name, he marks - not that you won or lost - but how you played the game." Last week's answer to: "I've never been a loser, gentleman, and I don't intend to start at this late date." - Vince Lombardi.

Heinsburg Community School raises flag on new school year

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elders, parents and special guests were welcomed to Heinsburg Community School last Thursday as they joined students and staff for a flag raising, pipe ceremony and feast to get the school year off to a good start.

"Today is a great day," acting principal Laverne Wilson told the crowd as he welcomed the guests.

Veteran Bill Peyachew slowly drew the scarlet and white Canadian maple leaf up the school's flagpole as the visiting drum group played two honour songs.

Frog Lake School Board chairman Melvin Abraham told the assembly that it is "very important to acknowledge the Canadian flag, because it means that we are free in this country, thanks to people like Bill Peyachew."

"Some of us danced to the second honour song," Abraham said. "We dance for the warriors who have gone ahead of us, for the warriors still with us who can't walk anymore, and for you, our future."

He told the students that the pipe ceremony and feast to follow would involve a certain protocol which must be learned as part of growing up.

"There are rites of passage to becoming a young woman, to becoming a young brave and a young warrior. It's a life-long learning journey, and I'm still learning today from elders like Gabe Moise, Dewey Dion, Bill Peyachew and Laverne Wilson. When you finish Grade 12 you're not finished learning, you have a lifetime to go."

Abraham thanked the Frog Lake Council members, parents and Pastor Wilfred Cross for their support.

"I've been a supporter of this school for 27 years," said elder Gabe Dion, who is part of the Fishing Lake Board, "even though twice I nearly died from cancer, my wife and I have been transporting students to this school. I am proud of myself and of the bus drivers. We tried hard to bring children here to keep this school open."

Dion told the students that the pipe ceremony they would witness later is a traditional form of prayer, and with it, those present would ask blessings on the school, its students and staff for the coming year.

Drummers perform an honour song during the flag raising at Heinsburg Community School on Thursday.

Land use bylaw changes

County council discussed amendments under the County of St. Paul's land use bylaw and municipal development plan Sept. 11 specific to subdivision of land on quarter-sections in hopes of providing a clearer understanding of what is permissible.

"It gives them more options to do stuff with their own land but with minimal impact on farm land," CAO Kim Heyman said following the meeting.

Under the proposed amendments, four parcels for country residential use including the farm site may be subdivided out of a quarter provided the quarter section is a minimum of 148 acres. The total area of the parcels cannot exceed 20 acres. A proposal for more than four country residential parcels on any quarter section will be considered a multi-lot country residential development.

The amendments would also state fragmented land parcels of less than 20 acres shall be considered a parcel for country residential as indicated above, however, subdivision of fragmented parcels larger than 20 acres shall be considered to be agricultural parcels. Fragmented parcels are those areas of land separated from the balance of the quarter section by a natural barrier such as a river, permanent naturally-occurring water body, a railroad or a road but not an undeveloped road.

"It's not going to fit every quarter section but what is available to every ratepayer is a variance," Heyman said in going over the amendments with council. "We're suggesting that this is the wording that will work for everybody."

Well closure

Council voted to de-commission the Vermilion Beach well located at SE-27-56-4-W4 due to arsenic levels at the well exceeding the Canadian Drinking Water Quality Guidelines. Testing on samples collected July 12 from the well showed an arsenic level of 0.022mg/L. The acceptable level is 0.01 mg/L.

Aspen Health's Environmental Health Services gave the county two options: eliminate access and decommission the well, or post signs at the well head stating that arsenic is known to cause health effects at high concentrations.

"Being a public well, we need to be very cautious on this one," Coun. Glen Ockerman said.

The county will explore the options available regarding establishing a new well in that area.

Heinsburg train station

Heinsburg Community Club will receive $10,000 from the county to assist in the initial phase of preserving the Heinsburg CN train station. In a letter to council, Club president Marjorie Scott said the group is interested in preserving the train station as part of the Railway Theme Park and the Iron Horse Trail staging area. "We are a volunteer organization with a limited amount of financial resources, however we have a committed membership who is willing to donate volunteer hours and take on the stewardship role of managing the train station."

The club requested initial funding from the county to hire a contractor to inspect the building and provide an estimate of the work required to bring the building to a status quo state and then to a state where it could be leased out to retail vendors, used as a visitor information centre or for other uses as the club determines.

"We should at least match the Elk Point funding ($10,000)," Reeve Robert Bouchard said. "It really should be preserved."

Rodeo supper proceeds

Councillors were surprised by two requests for the proceeds from the county's rodeo supper in 2008.

Having established an unofficial policy of first come first served in the past as to where the funds would go, council felt it had no choice but maintain the statu quo, as a result, St. Paul Victim Services and the Ashmont Mom and Tots will share the proceeds from next year's event.

It was suggested that for the future council might establish a deadline for requests and then make a decision based on all the submissions.

Municipal Sponsorship

CAO Kim Heyman advised council the municipalities of the County of St. Paul, Town of St. Paul and Town of Elk Point are jointly eligible for $203,000 through 2007 Municipal Sponsorship funding this year to be used on shared projects. Council approved the following projects: an inter-municipal development plan between the Town and County of St. Paul - $70,000, pavement of a walking path from the Elk Point recreation park and golf course to the Iron Horse Trail - $50,000, purchase of playground equipment for Westcove campground - $36,000 and a gazebo at the St. Paul Staging Area on the Iron Horse Trail - $46,000.

FCSS director

Council accepted the resignation of County FCSS director Linnette Newby and, following an in camera discussion, appointed Tammy Elkow as interim director.

Muni Corr repayment

Bouchard announced North East Muni-Corr is on a solid footing and in a position to return funds to the 10 member municipalities that contributed funds to assist with developing the Iron Horse Trail through their jurisdictions. The County of St. Paul's contribution of $36,666 has been repaid.

"Muni-Corr has asked that municipalities invest the monies in the trial in their jurisdiction," Bouchard said.

Northern Lights conference

"It's good to be back," Rick Boychuk, who was born and raised in St. Paul and is now editor-in-chief of Canadian Geographic magazine, told the crowd. "It was a delight driving out here from St. Paul."

The onetime editor of the St. Paul high school paper was pleased to see his former principal, Paul Chamberland, in the audience, and said he has had a variety of journalistic experience since that time. He has worked for the Edmonton Journal and the Montreal Gazette, written two books and spent five years freelance writing for US magazines and taught journalism at Carleton University prior to his 13 years as editor of the Canadian Geographic.

One of his most interesting freelance stories, was one that turned into a book, Honour Thy Mother, which told a true and chilling tale about a murder that took many years to be uncovered.

"It is not a book that will change the world, but I got a pretty good ride off it."

The book was published in 1993 and the story was the subject of a Fifth Estate documentary. Although it was not a best seller, Boychuk said it was "one of my most fulfilling pieces of writing."

Boychuk was drafted, along with MLEA Ray Danyluk and Lorraine Danyluk, as judges for the first-ever Northern Lights Book Truck Rodeo, which featured teams from Cold Lake Library, the convention's book vendors and Northern Lights themselves in a hilarious spectacle emceed with great circus announcer flair by NLLS director Mircea Panciuk.

The teams were judged on costumes, choreography, creativity, decorations and technical merit, with NLLS Board chair Larry Teidemann adding up the scores presented by the judges at the end of each round.

Cold Lake Library, with chicken costumes and bird dance, placed third and the Vivacious Vendors second while NLLS's own Bibliomaniacs cooked up the winning entry.

THANK YOU

Thank You

I would like to thank everyone who sponsored me in the Grandparents Day Walk from the bottom of my heart.

Special thanks to my family, bless their hearts, they are so generous. I am glad I could make the walk.

"That company also does electric curtains, and we're going to need those, with a 44-foot-wide stage."

Detailed drawings of "what has to come out," such as industrial hoists, etc., will be done shortly, and the architect is coming up with a new entrance design which would incorporate a less-cramped box office," Easthope said.

The 2006-07 executive, including Conrad, Orr, Heyman and Deanna Easthope along with directors Blaine Easthope, Cheryl Kurash and Schuhmacher were returned by acclamation, with Frances Moneta, Lawrence Pidluzny, Carol Maas and Sharon Smith added to the director lineup.

The group has another busy and challenging year ahead, but they are hopeful that fundraising and renovations will both proceed smoothly in the coming months.

NOTICE

COUNTY OF ST. PAUL NO. 19

Proposed Amendment to Bylaw No. 1487

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the County of St. Paul No. 19 is considering Bylaw No. 1500, which is a Bylaw to amend the Municipal Development Plan. The following changes are being proposed:

Change Item #1 to Section 2.11 to 2.14:

2.11 On a full quarter section (exceeding 60 ha (148 ac) in size), a maximum of four single lot separations for country residential uses (including any farmsteads and/or vacant parcels) may be allowed per quarter section as single lot separations, provided that the total area of the single lot separations, including the fragmented parcel, does not exceed 8 ha (20 ac). If the quarter section is less than 60 ha (148 ac) in size but more than 45 ha (111 ac) in size, a maximum of three single lot separations may be allowed provided that the total area of the single lot separations, including the fragmented parcel, does not exceed 6 ha (15 ac). If the quarter section is less than 45 ha (111 ac) in size but more than 30 ha (74 ac) in size, a maximum of two single lot separations may be allowed provided that the total area of the single lot separations, including the fragmented parcel, does not exceed 4 ha (10 ac). If the quarter section is less than 30 ha (74 ac) in size but more than 15 ha (37 ac) in size, a maximum of one single lot separation may be allowed provided that the area of the single lot separation does not exceed 2 ha (5 ac). If the quarter section is less than 15 ha (37 ac) in size, no single lot separation may be allowed.

2.12 If a subdivision as a result of a fragmentation for agricultural purposes has been allowed, no subdivision for country residential use shall be allowed as a result of fragmentation. However, if no subdivision as a result of a fragmentation for agricultural purposes has been allowed, one of the single lot subdivisions indicated in Section 2.11 above may be approved as a fragmentation may be allowed, at the discretion of the Subdivision Authority, but only if both proposed parcels (the fragment and the remainder) will have access to a developed County road and a suitable site for development.

To be a fragmentation, an area of land must be separated from the balance of the titled area by a natural barrier such as a river, a permanent naturally-occurring water body, a railroad, or a road; but not an undeveloped road on a Road Plan. A fragmenting feature may be a barrier to the crossing of cultivation equipment created by substantial topography, such as a ravine, gulley or watercourse, but not normally an intermittent watercourse or a seasonal water run or water or wetland feature; however, the determination that such a topographic barrier is a fragmenting feature for the purpose of subdivision shall be at the sole discretion of the Subdivision Authority.

2.13 The subdivision of country residential parcels from a quarter section allowed pursuant to Section 2.11 above without requiring an amendment to the Land Use Bylaw can be any combination of farmsteads and vacant parcels. A proposal for more than the number of country residential parcels on any one quarter section allowed pursuant to Section 2.11 above will be considered to be multi-lot country residential development.

2.14 Notwithstanding Section 2.11, if a quarter section has been divided into two halves within the County, only one country residential parcel may be subdivided from each half quarter section without requiring an amendment to the Land Use Bylaw. If a fragmented parcel has been subdivided from a quarter section, and if that fragmented parcel is in excess of 20 ha (50 ac) in size, only one country residential parcel may be subdivided, one from the fragment and one from the remainder of the quarter section, without requiring an amendment to the Land Use Bylaw. If a fragmented parcel has been subdivided from a quarter section, and if that fragmented parcel is between 8 ha (20 ac) and 20 ha (50 ac) in size, only two country residential parcels may be subdivided, neither of them from the fragmented parcel without requiring an amendment to the Land Use Bylaw.

2.15 Single lot country residential use parcels shall not be less than 0.4 ha (1 ac) in size and not more than 8 ha (20 ac) in size. However, the total area of all single lot country residential use parcels on a quarter section, including the area of any fragmented parcel which is used for country residential purposes, shall not exceed the number of hectares indicated in Section 2.11 above. The use of more land within one quarter section for country residential use shall be considered multi-lot country residential development, even if it is for only one lot, and will require amendment to the Land Use Bylaw before such development can be approved by the County.

A Public Hearing will be held on Tuesday, October 9, 2007 at 11:30 a.m. or as soon thereafter as can possibly be arranged, at the County Office in St. Paul.

Friends of Forts preparing for fur trade gala

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

In the days of the fur trade, it was customary to hold a huge gathering each fall, to welcome back the brigade from their long journey eastward to sell the winter's furs. The hardy boatsmen would bring back cargoes of trade goods to restock the forts, ready to barter for the new crop of pelts. The gathering would include good food, good music and a good time for all.

The Friends of Fort George and Buckingham House will bring that tradition back to life on Saturday, Oct. 20, when they present their Fur Trade Rendezvous at the Elk Point Elks Hall.

Deputy Minister of Tourism, Parks, Recreation and Culture Faye Orr and Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing Ray Danyluk will be among the special guests.

A feast celebrating some of the delicacies enjoyed at those long-ago celebrations, such as bison and saskatons, will be followed by an entertaining message by Lac La Biche historian Tom Maccagno and the excellent fiddle music of St. Paul's Daniel Gervais.

The modern-day Rendezvous will have its own form of trade goods, as well. The Friends are currently collecting a wide variety of silent auction items, including some very special creations by local artisans, that are sure to result in some spirited bidding.

All proceeds from the event will go toward enhancing the visitors' experience at Fort George and Buckingham House Provincial Historic Site, with upcoming projects including a fur-trade-theme children's playground.

This year's Rendezvous will also be an introduction to the David Thompson Bicentennial celebrations, which will continue next spring, with special events planned in May when the commemorative canoe brigade stops here on their trip eastward.

County clarifies subdivision

Grass cutting

Two county ratepayers who took it upon themselves to cut grass on vacant lots adjacent to their own property and who are now seeking compensation for doing so from the county, should have contacted the county prior to the doing the work.

That was the majority feeling around the council table as members decided not to reimburse the ratepayers.

Agriculture fieldman, Dennis Bergheim, said the usual process that occurs if a lot is not maintained and it is a concern, the county will cut it and bill the owner.

"Some (adjacent landowners) are concerned about the fire hazard if the grass is not cut," Bergheim said.

Gravel purchase

Council approved the sale of 3,000 cubic yards of gravel to the Town of St. Paul at a price $6 per cubic yard, 50 cents per cubic yard above the going rate to county residents, plus trucking.

New trucks

Two new four-door, 4x4 half ton trucks will be purchased from Smyl Motors at $30,577 apiece. The Smyl tender was accepted based on it being the lowest and was approved by council all specifications being equal.

Recreation facilities grants

Three $1,000 Recreational Facilities grants were awarded by council. The recipients were: Sugden Community Centre, Ferguson Flats Association and Mallaig District Museum.
